DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-4 and 11-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Applicants specification as filed fails to teach the surfactant in an amount between about 0.3 and about 1.0%, and the salt in an amount between about 0.1% and about 0.5% w/v. The specification teaches the specific values but fails to teach the term "about".

3. Applicants amendment has overcome the prior art rejections over Stern and Thompson, which differ such as in the amount of polysaccharide which is encompassed in the foamable composition. Applicant's original claims contained the term "about" in describing the amounts of surfactant and salt in the composition. Applicant may place this application in condition for allowance, by incorporating the subject matter of the original claim into the specification. A phone call was placed to Mr. Lapointe to determine if an examiners amendment would be appropriate, but it was indicated that he was out of the office from 2/18 – 2/20/04. A phone call to the examiner would be welcome, if applicant determines that an examiners amendment would expedite the processing of the application.
